HORSE TRUST.

Few of the wealthy members of trusts who are buying high-class horses at Lexington, Ky., are aware that a trust controls the blue-grass horse market.

DUCHESS A DRUMMER.

One queer phase of the recent trip of the Duchess of Wellington to Havana, in company with the Duchess of Marlborough, did not get into the papers in London.

THERE MAY BE A KING in This Group of Children.

This is the latest photograph of the children of the Prince and Princess of Wales.

THE PARROT AND THE HAT.

"My wife" remarked a young young soldier, "though a dear little woman in every respect, has a mania for extravagantly-colored hats. Sometimes I think that nothing could please her better than to carry about on her head a pink lamp shade or a green oil-cloth lantern."

"The other day she tripped into my room wearing a new hat, at sight of which my eyes were positively shocked. There were feathers, feathers, everywhere—blue and white plumes, which would have given fits to the finest ostrich in South Africa. My heart sank at the sight of it, but I did not dare protest."
